Songsmith is a disappointment

It doesn't do anything except play a corny MIDI track and detect when you stopped singing so it can add on a little boo bop ba boo to the end. I sang, I made screechy cat noises, banged my microphone against the desk, and the same boop bee boo upbeat MIDI track keeps playing, it doesn't care. This program is snake oil; doesn't seem to do any of the advanced futuristic composition work the advertisements imply.
