The 2009 Special
Joint Users Group Event
with Dave Marra

Why is this man so happy? Because he's coming back to Pittsburgh!

Apple Senior Systems Engineer Dave Marra is a native of McKeesport. He has traveled the country, conducting more than 500 high-energy tech presentations for users groups, businesses, and professional organizations. Now he's coming back to Pittsburgh, and he's really thrilled! He will be showing off the 2009 versions of iLife and iWork. Find out how iPhoto can automatically spot your friends, and tell you where a photo was taken. Learn how Pages is smoother, Numbers is crunchier, and Keynote is slicker than ever. Join your Mac friends and catch Dave's talk at:
